

Tamarind Free Jones has been a student at the Ali Akbar College of Music since 1993, studying singing from Maestro Ali Akbar Khan. She also plays guitar, slide guitar, tanpura and harmonium, and has performed in many of the school's concerts and festivals. She has taught vocal review class at the college for years, and mentors new students.

Tamarind also writes and records her own songs, combining her training in Indian Classical singing with her love of poetry and Western music. She has performed in Ireland, England, Venice, Fiji and the US. For the past two summers, she has toured with the U.K. based Ariel Dance Company Fidget Feet, singing and dancing in many of their shows.
