

Wallace Harvey was raised in Fresno, California where he studied European classical violin with Claudia Shih and David Margetta. He was concertmaster of the orchestra at California State University, Fresno, where he also performed with the Viotti String trio. He spent his junior year at Ruprecht Karl's University in Heidelberg, Germany and earned a BA in German.

For the past ten years, he has been studying with Maestro Ali Akbar Khansahib, while also receiving instruction from Professor Sisirkana Dhar Chaudhury on violin and Pandit Swapan Chaudhuri on tabla. He has accompanied vocalists such as Rita Sahai and performed with the Chitresh Das Kathak Dance Company. He is also a member of the New Maihar Band.

His performances have been broadcast on KQED public radio in California and on public radio in Austria.